INTRODUCTION

The University's Retirement, Disability and Death Benefit Plan, commonly referred to as the Retirement Plan, is a defined benefit pension plan established to provide retirement income and other stipulated benefits to qualified employees. A Trust was established in 1958 and is funded to provide the financial security of those benefits.

RETIREMENT PLAN OBJECTIVE

The Retirement Plan is to provide for the full and timely payment of retirement benefits to qualified employees. In order to fulfill this objective, the University must maintain a prudent, actuarially sound funding of the Plan's liabilities. This funding requirement is derived from two principal sources; the total investment return on Trust assets and the amount of University and employee contributions.

INVESTMENTS

The Retirement Trust is invested for long-term growth, with broadly diversified investments to reduce risk. The Trust employs a total return approach, with an emphasis on balanced growth. The Trust is invested in equities, fixed income, hedge funds, real estate, and private equities to diversify the investment portfolio.
